The American Cornerstone Institute and Family Research Council Co-Host Event for Perilous Fight Faith Tour

BATON ROUGE, LA: On May 30, 2024, the American Cornerstone Institute (ACI) and Family Research Council co-hosted an event as part of ACI's Perilous Fight Faith Tour. Dr. Ben Carson, Founder and Chairman of ACI, headlined the event with a keynote address and a discussion with Pastor Tony Perkins on the decline of faith and family values in American culture and the urgent need to preserve these principles. Following the event, Dr. Carson hosted a signing of his latest book, The Perilous Fight.

"We are in the midst of a serious battle right now... an all-out war is being waged against traditional family values and Godly principles in this country, leading America down a dark path. The moral foundation of this country is being stripped away before our very eyes, and the future of America hangs in the balance. I applaud my good friend, Pastor Tony Perkins, for being a courageous leader and upholding our foundational principles and morals, never wavering amidst an increasingly secular culture. It's time to fight back," said ACI Founder & Chairman, Dr. Ben Carson.

"I look forward to hosting Dr. Ben Carson for a discussion on his new book The Perilous Fight: Overcoming Our Culture's War on the American Family and how it tackles the restoration of something at the heart of FRC—the family," said Pastor Tony Perkins, Family Research Council President. "I am confident this conversation will inspire and encourage freedom-loving Americans to seek and enact the changes American families so desperately need; only then can we restore America to what its founding vision."
